Principal's Quick Notes

Happy Pentecost!

As I said last week, the spirit is alive and well at St. Philip Neri. As the year draws to a close, I realize how thankful I am to be in such a wonderful community. Your partnership in our school is what makes St. Philip Neri such a great place to be. I thank all of you for offering the generous gifts of time, talent and treasure to our school community.

In thanksgiving for keeping me on track, thank you to Sue Coberg and our wonderful school board.

In thanksgiving for making athletics happen at St. Philip Neri, thank you to Peter McNamara and the Athletic Board.

In thanksgiving for making the social life and community service happen at St. Philip Neri, thank you to Sheri McMurray and Toinette Carter and our PTG.

In thanksgiving for taking care of all the classroom activities, requests for food, and all the sundry things, thank you to all of our room parents.

In thanksgiving for bringing art to all the children at St Philip Neri, thank you to JaYing Wang, Gail Keating, Julie Nakamura, and all of our Art Docents.

In thanksgiving for all of you who went on field trips, came into the classroom to read, work with math groups, and to those who baked goodies, attended Parent Education Evenings, and were "present" to the children as well as the faculty and staff, thank you.
